

POWERS MUSEUM

1617 West Oak Street (Historic Route 66) Carthage, Missouri

The Powers Museum was created through the bequest of Marian Powers Winchester who wanted to establish a museum for Carthage. The Powers Museum has provided exhibits, community programs and other history-based services to thousands of residents, tourists and on-line viewers since 1988. The initial collection of the Wright-Powers-Winchester families has been expanded these past 24 years with many donations related to Carthage's rich cultural heritage. Our 2012 calendar highlights some of those donations by featuring local images along U.S. Highway 66 in honor of the "Mother Road's" 85th Anniversary.

For further museum information and schedule of programs consult www.powersmuseum.com or follow us on Facebook (Powers Museum of Carthage).

BECOME A FRIEND OF THE POWERS MUSEUM

Additional donations are needed to help us reach our goal to replace 24 year-old HVAC systems, one of which is not operational. By becoming a Friend of the Powers Museum, your 2011 gift will be used for this purpose. In return you will receive a 20% discount in the museum gift shop, program announcements and invitations to exhibit openings. Donors at Benefactor or Corporate levels are eligible for one free rental of the museum in 2012 (April - December).
